

Temporal Relativity

To hear to speak is near to bleak
To hear to learn will bring discern ment
meant

No point in space is fixed to a universal grid Each point finds place betwixt the others it's amid

Just so,

Moments are not set to an absolute chronometer Each moment in time finds reason and rhyme in singing with some other;
together they chime

Synchronicity
Asynchronicity
A synchronicity
A sin-crony city
A sin chronicity

The meaning of each moment is found in temporal relativity

A notion of syllables depends on context an ocean deep ends

Time brags fundamental change to how a word's lure affects meaning fund a mental word-slur

Those who speak mentalesse whose peak mental ease more allies with moral eyes may be more all-eyes to moralize to more allies.

Options are endless. What can we say many ways that stays the same anyways?
So, choose your words carefully to make your meaning find its leaning word-scare fully and your moment his bestowment in history his story

How can you know where you are unless you know where elsewhere is?
How can you know when you are unless you know when elsewhen ?

“Now” means nothing as a lone point on the tapestry of time.

Only by its relation to other moments does it find its meaning. Civilization has advanced in knowledge. We've learned letters from the Levant, post from Persia, argument from Athens, and rulership from Rome. And of late, have not our strides been great? From the telescope to the moon, from the cosmic to the microscopic, our knowledge abounds. Yet, too much knowledge with too little wisdom bespeaks an end. Falling leaves still threaten nuclear winter; our sense has been covid over by misinformation;

missin' formation

even melting ice, once a token of springing life, has become a bearer of bad news.
Our moment is passing, but time still persists. Remember, the meaning of moment in temporal relativity consists.

To hear to learn will bring discern ment

Now, shall a name remain for this profundity?
an aim pro fun ditty

For this to be, we must add wisdom to our knowledge. Don't try to obtain it from this moment; this moment only has what you bring. Nor seek wisdom from the teachers of knowledge who have built our tumbling world. Knowledge we need, but Wisdom must lead. And so we must read Her writers:

From Hosea the lesson of the hour is how to end kingly power.

Through Jeremiah's sauber lens shines moral light on robber's dens while decrying torah's lying pens.

The nameless teacher of the dead sea scrolls wrote Wisdom's reveal of the two ways; you'll learn to leave the woo craze. Filling your fittest community roles, you'll have unity for She'll shine ever new rays.

From Jesus, we learn to bear our cross - to struggle and suffer without complaint.
This tough pill to swallow gives the will to follow the lamb - the lion - without faint, across to Zion. Who never despair will victory share.

Multitudes of lessons! Wisdom is a fountain ever-flowing, a tree of life ever-bearing new fruit each month.

So,

To hear to speak is near to bleak

mentorship from Wisdom is the only way to make this moment what it needs to be. Temporal relativity - each moment in time finds reason and rhyme by connecting to past and future; together they chime!
